

10 Minute Supervisor Trainings

January 2020

PER DIEM

According to merriam-webster.com the definition of the term per diem is “by the day: for each day”. Per diem is a flat amount given to a person for a day of work or service. Supervisors are elected officials and can receive reimbursement for actual expenses OR receive per diem.

Amount of Per Diem Allowed:

At present the maximum rate for per diem is $50. The conservation district board of supervisors can set the rate at a lower amount if they choose to do so. At the Soil and Water Conservation Commission meeting in May of 2006, the possibility to receive Incentive per diem was approved. Incentive per diem is a $25 payment added to per diem after certain conditions are met.

Facts About Incentive Per Diem:

- You must complete 2 qualifying events to be eligible.
- You earn the incentive per diem for the next fiscal year. (Ex. Attending the KACD Convention in July of 2019 and a KACD Area meeting in 2020 could make you eligible for the incentive starting July 1, 2020.
- Incentive per diem is earned yearly.
- Incentive per diem is earned by each board member. It is not earned for the entire board of supervisors.
- The incentive per diem should be approved by the local board and the Soil and Water Conservation Commission prior to receiving payment.

Examples of Qualifying Events in a fiscal year (July 1-June 30):

- KACD Convention
- KACD Area Meeting
- Training from at least eight of the 10-Minute Supervisor Trainings
- Other trainings and/or events approved by the Soil and Water Conservation Commission

New Qualifying Events:

If your board wants a new training or event approved as a qualifying event, they can petition the Soil and Water Conservation Commission. The event should be one in which the supervisor will learn a new way to be a better supervisor. The petition should include a meeting agenda and a letter from the district board explaining why they feel that event should qualify.

W

This information is no longer DOC's recommendation. Per diem payments to supervisors should not have taxes withheld. Instead payments should be considered taxable income by the supervisor. This means that instead of withholding taxes, filing quarterly 941s, and using W-2s for supervisor per diem payments, the districts should provide 1099-NECs for those payments.
